TANFORAN SITE COUNTY MEETING HELD IN THIS CITY

Organizes and Selects Committee of Three to Appoint Executive Committee of Fifteen

Upon invitation of the local Tanforan site committee, a conference of representatives from different parts of San Mateo county was held in Metropolitan Hall in this city last Thursday afternoon to start a county movement to locate Panama-Pacific Exposition at Tanforan site.

There was a large attendance, composed of the following named delegates, besides many visitors: Menlo Park—Jas. T. O'Keefe.

Redwood City—Geo. W. Lovie, L. P. Behrens, Carl Muller, H. C. Tuchsien, P. P. Chamberlain, J. V. Swift, Guy P. Hull, A. D. Walsh, C. J. Hynding, W. A. Price, F. T. Miller, W. J. Plump, G. C. Plump, Daniel R. Stafford, Albert Mansfield.

San Carlos—Asa Hull.

San Mateo—L. H. Newbert, C. N. Kirkbride, H. N. Royden, H. W. Hagen, J. J. O'Brien, M. J. Conway, Hall C. Ross, Chas. M. Morse, Kenneth M. Green.

Hillsborough—Rev. W. A. Brewer, Henry Maier, Geo. H. Howard.

Burlingame—Eric Lange, Geo. W. Gates, C. A. Carlson, Chas. J. Lindgren, J. R. Murphy, Hugo P. Frear, Wm. Edwards, E. M. Moores, F. W. Waggoner, S. D. Merk.

San Bruno—A. D. Jenevein, Dr. E. A. Bohm, A. A. Green.

South San Francisco—W. J. Martin, W. H. Coffinberry, E. E. Cunningham, J. J. McDonald, E. I. Woodman, D. McSweeney, T. L. Hickey, Thos. Spellman, Dr. H. G. Plymire, F. A. Cunningham, M. F. Healy, Dr. J. C. McGovern.

Owing to the absence of A. Hynding, chairman of the local Tanforan site committee, F. A. Cunningham, secretary, called the conference to order at 3:30 p. m.

He announced that the purpose of the meeting would be to perfect a San Mateo county organization to endeavor to secure the location of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915 at a tract of vacant land near Tanforan Park. He then called for nominations for permanent chairman of the conference.

Upon motion of W. J. Martin, Rev. W. A. Brewer, representative from Hillsborough, was unanimously elected to the position.

Mr. Brewer ascended the platform amid applause, thanked the representatives for the honor conferred, and called for nominations for secretary.

Upon motion of F. W. Waggoner of Burlingame, E. I. Woodman of this city was elected.

Chairman Brewer called upon W. J. Martin of this city, who has been the principal worker in the Tanforan site movement, to state what has heretofore been done in the matter of locating the Panama-Pacific Exposition at the Tanforan site.

Mr. Martin went fully into the question. Many members of the exposition committee in San Francisco favored the Tanforan site as being the most favorably situated one for the people of San Francisco. He said the local land company would donate the use of 2000 acres or more for the exposition free of cost. The Flood estate would do the same with 1000 acres adjoining if needed. He suggested that an executive committee of fifteen be appointed by a committee of three to be elected by conference, who would take active charge of the whole matter and at the proper time appear before the exposition committee in San Francisco, set forth the advantages of the Tanforan site and endeavor to have that location selected.

Fred H. Green, representing the Flood estate, said he was fully satisfied that the exposition would be held here if there were an organized movement in this county to get behind the proposition. The Tanforan site is a favorable one in many ways. One hundred and fifty thousand people, with the present transportation facilities of the railroads, can be landed here from San Francisco in one hour.

W. J. Martin moved that a committee of three be elected by the conference, whose duty it would be to appoint an executive committee of fifteen.

Many nominations were made, and upon a secret ballot being taken, W. J. Martin of this city, H. N. Royden of San Mateo, and Geo. W. Lovie of Redwood City were elected.

A recess of ten minutes was then taken to give the committee an opportunity to organize, select

JOHN L. WOOD DEAD.

Another pioneer has passed to his reward. On Thursday last we lost a good neighbor and our country a good citizen.

John L. Wood was one of the first citizens of this town. He was among the first as to the date of his settlement here, and no less one of the first in all that goes to make a true man and good neighbor and loyal citizen. He was a veteran of the civil war, a member of the 11th Regiment of Kansas Volunteer Cavalry. He was loyal to the last, and when the November election came on he was unable to walk, or even stand on his feet without support, but the sense of duty to his country was so strong within him that at his request he was carried to the polling place and supported by a member of the election board, marked and deposited his ballot, and was carried home to die, content with having done his duty all his life, and even at the last.

He was a lovable and a companionable man, of a sunny, cheerful nature, without one drop of malice or bitterness in his make-up.

He was stricken some months ago, suffering from locomotor-ataxia, which rendered him helpless. His passing away was painless.

The funeral was held from his late home this morning, December 3d, at 10:30 o'clock, and his body laid at rest at Mount Olivet Cemetery. He leaves a dearly beloved wife, Mrs. Alma Wood, his life companion, two sisters and his foster daughter, Mrs. Collins, to mourn his loss.

This dear old citizen and veteran is gone from us. He has been mustered out, but he is happier now than we, for he has a mansion in the Soldiers' Home above.

the larger committee and report back to the conference.

On reassembling, W. J. Martin, for the committee, said the committee wished a week's time in which to appoint the committee, as it was an important one and deserved a great deal of careful thought and consideration.

Upon motion of L. P. Behrens, and seconded by C. J. Hynding, both of Redwood City, this committee was granted further time and empowered to appoint the committee of fifteen.

An amendment to the motion made by S. D. Merk of Burlingame that a certain number of committeemen be appointed from each locality by the committee of three was lost and the original motion carried.

Upon motion of Geo. W. Lovie of Redwood city, seconded by A. D. Jenevein of San Bruno, the conference adjourned to meet in San Mateo at the call of the chair.

TRUSTEES GRANT CONCESSIONS FOR AVIATION MEET

Grand Avenue Extension to Be Repaired-- People of Visitation Want to Annex to This City

The city board of trustees held a very important meeting last Monday night. There was a large attendance of citizens present.

Col. Geo. H. Pippy, Walter B. Webster and E. H. Tryon, representing the aviation committee of San Francisco, in conjunction with W. J. Martin of this city, appeared before the board and asked that the following concessions be granted the committee in order to make the aviation meet to be held in this city, near Tanforan Park, a success financially:

Authority to bring in the San Francisco police.

Control of wagon road leading from the Mission road to the site selected.

Control of road from South San Francisco to the site.

That South San Francisco furnish police for control of last named road.

Sole right to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of all concessions on the ground, including liquor, food, peanuts, soft drinks, programs, etc.

The right to establish and maintain a temporary hospital and other sanitary arrangements on the ground.

The right to establish and maintain a sufficient number of telegraph and telephone lines on the ground.

The right to hold the meet, build grandstand, office building, and such other structures as may be necessary for the successful carrying on of said meet.

The right to bring in the San Francisco health department.

Colonel Pippy in presenting the request of the committee, stated that the aviation would not be given for profit, but for the general good of San Francisco and vicinity. The committee desired to get all the money it could, by means of gate receipts and concessions, to give to those who had guaranteed the amount necessary to finance the meet, which would last nine days.

W. J. Martin said the use of the land necessary for the meet would be given by the local land company free. The San Francisco business men want the meet on this side of the bay, for thousands will then come here. We are in competition with other localities.

Mr. Webster said he believed the board could give what was asked for. Thousands of people would come to this vicinity who have never been here before.

E. E. Cunningham said the material point in having the meet held in this city is that it would advertise this place ten, yes 100 times more than what has been expended by our people in the past. Another point is the ability of the railroads to handle large crowds of people if the meet is held in this city. This request means that the committee be given the freedom of the city.

Judge A. McSweeney said he was heartily in accord with the aviation meet, and hoped the board would be liberal.

Upon motion of Trustee Cunningham, seconded by Trustee McGovern, the concessions asked for by the aviation committee were unanimously granted.

Colonel Pippy in behalf of the committee thanked the board for its action, and with his associates retired.

City Attorney Styles was instructed to prepare an amendment to the liquor ordinance in order that one more class A liquor license can be issued to the committee. At present there is a restriction to twenty-four licenses, and they are all in use.

Joe Biaginni was granted permission to transfer his class A liquor license from the Tanforan Hotel to the Union

Hotel, which will be ready for business soon.

Trustee Cunningham for the light committee reported that the light company had been notified in writing to move a light from the foot of Spruce avenue to a suitable location in Frenchtown.

Labor claims were allowed by the board, as follows: Albert Gibson, $1.25, U. Agnosta, $5; O. Bianchini, $14.

It was reported that Grand avenue extension leading to Mission road was in need of repair before winter.

The matter was referred to the street committee to view the street and report at the next meeting.

Attorney J. B. Gordon of San Mateo appeared before the board in behalf of Wygant & Collins, curb and sidewalk contractors. He said the work of laying curbs and sidewalks on Grand avenue, between Division street and Maple avenue had been completed and that the firm he represented desired to have the work accepted by the board so that the expense of doing it could be collected from the property owners.

The board decided that the work would be inspected the next morning, and a report made at the next meeting.

Contractor Geo. Casey was granted thirty days additional in which to complete laying curbs and sidewalks on Linden avenue.

E. M. Barnes of Visitation appeared before the board and asked that it start proceedings to annex the Visitation election precinct to the incorporated limits of this city. He said a majority of the people of Visitation desired to be taken into this city. The population there is estimated at about 250 people. There are 47 voters.

The question was thoroughly discussed by members of the board, at the conclusion of which City Attorney Styles was instructed to prepare the necessary petition to be presented next Monday night.

Chairman McSweeney announced to the citizens present that on the next evening (Tuesday) a mass meeting under the auspices of the board would be held in Metropolitan Hall to discuss the sewer bond proposition.

MANY GIRLS DIE IN FACTORY FLAMESForced from Iron Ladders by Heat to Leap to Street

In ten minutes twenty-four girls were burned alive Saturday morning or crushed to death on the pavement on leaping from the windows and fire escapes of the four-story factory building at Newark, N. J., occupied on the top floor by an underwear manufacturing concern. Here the death list was heaviest. The lower floors were occupied by two paper-box concerns and two electrical fixture factories. The latest count shows that sixteen of the twenty-four bodies recovered have been identified, and that six girls are missing.

The collapse of a wall interrupted further search. Fifty were taken to the hospital, of whom two may die. Among the injured is Joseph E. Sloane, deputy fire chief, who was overtaken by the falling wall and buried in bricks and rubbish. He is badly hurt, but may recover.

Swift Rush of Flames.

The rush of flames was so swift and threw such terror into the girls on the top story that the body of one was found still seated on a charred stool beside the machine at which she had been busy when the first cry of fire petrified her with fright.

Horrible as must have been the scene in the smoke of the crowded upper room, what occurred in the bright sunlight was more horrible. The building was exceedingly inflammable and the first gush of flames cut off all escape by the stairways.

The elevators made one trip, but took down no passengers and never came back. The only exit was by the fire escapes, the lower platforms of which were twenty-five feet from the street. On these overcrowded and steep lanes, made hot by the jets from lower windows, pressed forward a mob of women blind with panic, driven by the fire and the others behind them.

A net had been spread beneath the windows and the girls began to jump. "Like rats out of a burning bin" was the way a fireman described the descent.

They came out of the windows in a stream, rolled upon the heads of those below them and cascaded off the fire escape to the pavement sixty feet below.

Girls Jump to Death.

Some of them stood in the windows outlined against the flames and jumped clear; others jumped from the landings, still others from the steps where they stood. The air was full of them and they fell everywhere—into the net, on the necks of the firemen, and fifteen of them on the hard stone slabs.

When it was over there were eight dead in the street and the gutters ran red. Seven more were so badly crushed they died in hospitals. Fifty are still under surgical care.

Clouds of smoke and showers of burning embers rained down on neighboring roofs. As the news flew a panic spread to other factories, where many of the girls in peril had friends and relatives, and several firms had to shut down for the day. Thousands flocked to the fire and made the work of the firemen and police more difficult.

Deliberate Determination.

"Ef yo' eat enny mo' ob dem onions, Miss Kinkaid, I don't lub yo' no mo', dat's all."

"All right, Mistah Calhoun; ef yo's gwine ter 'low vegetables ter come between us yo' kin go."

Tolstoi Estate Goes to Peasants.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that it is understood that Count Tolstoi's daughter, Alexandra, in obedience to her father's wish, will sell rights to the first edition of his writings for the purpose of buying Yasnaya from the Tolstoi family, dividing the estate, which has an area of 2500 acres, among the peasants. The price of the first edition will be about $50,000. The copyright will then become public property. It is stated that neither son of Tolstoi is mentioned in his will.

SAN FRANCISCO PRODUCE MARKET

Latest Conditions and Prices of Seasonable Products of California

FRUITS—The fruit market is decidedly weak and dull. Prices are shaded generally whenever there is an inducement to do so. Grapes drag badly at poorly sustained figures and receipts are too plentiful for comfort. Apples, however, are a bit firmer, especially for the standard varieties of a keeping character, Newtowns, Spitzenbergs and Ben Davis. Strawberries arrived in a frost-bitten condition and the canners are their principal outlet. The citrus market is decidedly easy, to say the least, and quotations are exhibiting a downward tendency. Tangerines and lemons also are in the same category.

Strawberries, per chest, $5@6. Raspberries, per chest, $6@8. Huckleberries, per lb., 7@10c. Apples—Fancy Red, $1@1.25; Newtowns, 75c@1.25; Bellflowers, 90c@1; choice other varieties, 65c@85c; common, 50@65c. Pears—Wrapped Bartletts, $1.50@2; winter varieties, 60c@1 per box. Grapes—Per box: Isabella, 90c@1.15; other varieties, 50c@75c, box or crate; lugs, 75c@1.25; Wine Grapes, per ton, $10@15 for Zinfandel and $8@10 for Mission.

VEGETABLES.—A good brisk demand rules for most descriptions of Vegetables and prices are a good deal improved. Tomatoes are quite firmly held and have sold up to $1 a box. String Beans and Peas also sold at a sharp advance. Cucumbers and Summer Squash are more plentiful than before and prices are lower. Potatoes and Onions are quiet.

Potatoes—Per ctt.: River Whites, 85c@1.10; Salinas Burbanks, $1.50@1.70; Oregon, $1.40@1.50; Sweeties, $2@2.10; Tomatoes, 50c@1; Garlic, 2½c@3c per lb; Cucumbers, per box, 75c@1.25; Egg Plant, 40@65c per box; Green Peas, per lb., 6@9c; String Beans, 8@12c per lb; Lima Beans, per lb., 5@6c; Summer Squash, per box, $1@1.50; Okra, per box, 40@60c; Peppers, lugs, 25@40c; Celery, per dozen, 40@50c; Rhubarb, $1@1.25 per box; Onions, per sk., 85c@1.10.

POULTRY—A sixth car of Eastern chickens has arrived for the week in addition to those previously reported. Receipts of Californians are light, nevertheless the market is in rather unsatisfactory shape because of the very heavy arrivals of Eastern stock. With six cars arrived so far this week and more likely to follow, and a carry-over of nearly two cars from last week, the outlook is not encouraging. Good stock, however, always finds a market, but prices may not be as high as ordinarily. Good broilers, young ducks and fat squabs are in demand.

Hens, small, $4.50@5; do, large, $5.50@6.50; do, extras, $8@10; Old Roosters, $5@5.50; Young Roosters, $6@6.50; do, full grown, $7.50@8.50; Fryers, $5@5.50; Broilers, large, $4@4.50; do, medium, $3.50@4; do, small, $3.50; Ducks, old, $6@7; do, young, $8@10; Pigeons, old, $1.50@1.75; do, young, $2@2.25; do, Squabs, $3@3.50; Geese, per pair, $2@3; Hen Turkeys, per lb., 20@23c; Gobblers, live, 21c@24c; Turkeys, dressed, 25@29c.

BUTTER—Extras have declined to 36½c, other markets not supporting the higher local quotations, heretofore.

EGGS—Extras have declined to 50c, fine storage being forced on the market freely.

The French Cabinet has decided against the temporary abolition of the import duties on foreign wheat and other cereals which had been proposed because of the shortage of the French crops.

FOUNDERS OF THE CITY OF SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

THE SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO LAND AND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY designed in its original plan to make of South San Francisco a great manufacturing center. With that object in view, it originally purchased 3500 acres of land in San Mateo County, on the bay front, five miles south of the City of San Francisco. Since the original purchase, the company has added greatly to its holdings by the purchase of large tracts of adjoining lands, giving to it a perfect environment for the complete development of a great manufacturing city. The faith which this Company had in its enterprise has been manifest to everyone by the large expenditure it has made in the development of this property. Every foundation which goes to make a perfect condition for manufacture has been already solidly installed, and is a rapidly growing city; it is a railroad terminal; it is on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and accessible to all railroads; has deep water communication; owns and operates for its industries a railroad connecting with the Southern Pacific and the water front; has electric street car service from factory to Town, and direct to San Francisco; has an Electric Light and Power Company; owns an independent Water Works, and has an abundance of fresh water for factory and house; has wharves and docks; a perfect sewerage system; a Bank and a Town Hall; and a population of over 3000 people an extensive and fine residence district, where everyone may secure lands at reasonable prices and on favorable terms, as homes for themselves and their families.

FACTORY SITES

can be obtained from the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company on most reasonable terms.

The completion of the Bay Shore Tunnels has placed South San Francisco on the main lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and forty passenger trains per day connect it with the outside world.

With the completion of the Dumbarton Bridge and Cutoff, now rapidly being constructed, South San Francisco will have all railroads which center in San Francisco passing through its midst.

Many industries are already established here, chief of which are the Western Meat Company, the Wool Pullery, the Soap Works, the Baden Brick Company, Pacific Jupiter Steel Company, the Steiger Pottery Works, the W. P. Fuller White Lead Works, the South San Francisco Lumber and Supply Company, and other enterprises, all of which are in full operation to-day. The American Smelting and Refining Company has purchased over 300 acres of land in South San Francisco for the purpose of erecting a great plant, which they estimate will cost upwards of $5,000,000. The Doak Sheet Steel Company has purchased a large tract of land and has already commenced the construction of a large rolling mill. Other factories have recently made purchases, and South San Francisco is plainly destined to fulfill all that its promoters had hoped.

Aviation.

Everything sky-high.

The aeroplane? Aero-go-on; quit your fooling.

If aviation "meat" costs any more, we can't go.

The aviator cocktail is an "A. V. H. gin cocktail."

The aviator—A man of lofty aims and a soaring ambition.

A suitable drink for the aviation meet—a "Biplane Highball."

"Trifles light as air." The aeroplane is lighter, but no trifle.

There is no difference between aviation meet and aviation meat. Both are high.

Land and water have been subdued, and now the air submits to man's dominion.

Tanforan owes its good luck to Father Cooper. His parish picnics brought it, and are the Tanforan "mascot."

"Tanforan!" Name of mystery and of magic. Fortunate Tanforan is winner of the very latest big prize. The ships of the air will race there in January, at which place and time the Pacific coast aviation meet will be held.

The lands and the waters of the earth have all been subdued, and thirsting for new worlds to conquer, man, born of woman and "created in the image and likeness of God," has invaded the heavens, and is assailing the realms of the air, to measure and divide them, to chart and lay down courses and routes therein, to navigate and to explore their trackless spaces, and to "fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven." All this wonder may be witnessed with the dawning of the new year at Tanforan.

The selection of the broad and beautiful plain adjoining Tanforan Park, as the field for the ten days' trial and test of the most improved and best airships of the earth, will bring all the aviation world to South San Francisco.

The trustees of this municipality it may be, builded even better than they knew, when they with one accord, granted without any restriction whatever, each and every and all the concessions asked for by the managers of the meet.

The grant was made in the right spirit, and in a good cause. It was made to aid and to advance the world's latest, and peradventure, its greatest, forward movement. In this the trustees of this city came up to the high mark of civic duty fully and voluntarily. They acted as the agents and servants of the people should ever act, without fear, favor, or hope of reward.

They will have their reward, however, and it will be all the more pleasurable in that it will come unsought. Their recompense will come in the immeasurable benefits to this city resulting from holding the meeting at this place.

There will be in all probability, from two hundred to four hundred thousand people assembled here on this notable occasion. These multitudes will not be made up of so many unthinking atoms. Upon the contrary, they will be of the brightest, the best and the most strenuous of the world's inhabitants, the very "Salt of the Earth."

This young city has spent large sums in making known its merits and advantages, but the advertisement it will secure through the ten days' visit of the hundreds of thousands of the world's best citizens, will exceed a hundred-fold, in practical effect and value, all that has gone before.

Of even greater value, however, to this city will be the demonstration that will be made on this occasion of the great facilities this city commands for the transportation and successful handling of large crowds of people.

The Southern Pacific Company with its Bay Shore and its loop line double track service, and the United Railroads' double-track electric line, at a former aviation meet held at Tanforan Park handled 50,000 people in one day easily, and these well-equipped and well-managed lines will demonstrate their ability to handle daily, and with ease, 200,000 people when the air ships of the world race at Tanforan next month. Such demonstration may, and probably will, cause the aviation meet to be succeeded by the holding of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915; this latter will be the world's greatest meet, and held here would be Tanforan's and South San Francisco's crowning glory.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS TOLD IN BRIEF

J. C. Eikerenkotter is having a residence built on a lot on Miller Avenue, near Spruce.

The regular monthly meeting of Hose Company No. 1 will be held at the city hall next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All members must attend to get their badges.

According to the United States census returns, San Mateo county is fourth in the percentage of increase in population, or 119.8. The three counties higher are Los Angeles, 196; Stanislaus, 136.7; Kern, 128.8. This county's population in 1900 was 12,094. This year it is 26,585.

Volunteer Hose Co. No. 1 will give a benefit ball in Metropolitan Hall on Saturday night, December 10th. Many tickets have been sold, thus assuring a large attendance. The ball is given by the hose company in order to raise funds to improve the local fire apparatus, thus assuring lower insurance rates. This is important, and property owners should buy as many tickets as they can.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR AVIATION MEET NEARLY COMPLETE

Nearly $100,000, The Amount Necessary to Finance Meet, Subscribed—This City Selected as Site

The big San Francisco nine-days' aviation meet will take place during January next in a 700-acre field in the southern part of this city.

Last Monday night the local board of city trustees granted several concessions asked for by a committee which appeared before it, thereby deciding the matter of location of the meet.

Nearly $100,000, the amount of money necessary to finance the meet, has been subscribed in San Francisco.

Eight world-famous aviators, representing America, France and England, and two types of planes—the Wright and the Curtiss, and two types of monoplanes, the Bleriot and the Antoinette, are now under contract with the San Francisco aviation committee to take part in the aviation meet.

The aviators who have signed contracts are as follows:

The Wright Team—Walter Brookings, Arch Hoxie, Philip Parmalee.

The Glenn Curtis Team—Glenn Curtiss, Ely, Willard, Hubert Latham, James Radley.

Negotiations are pending with other aviators.

Lieutenant Paul W. Beck, U. S. A. signal corps, has been detailed by the United States war department to participate in the meet.

The judges for the meet are being carefully selected. Major Ernest V. Smith, paymaster United States army, on duty at the headquarters of the Department of California, being selected to head the list. The University of California and Stanford University will be requested to select one each, and four others will be selected by the committee.

The following executive committee has been appointed, who will have charge of all matters connected with the meet:

F. E. Seotford (chairman), Henry T. Scott, Col. Geo. Geo. Pippy, Jas. Wood, W. H. Crocker, F. W. Dohrmann, Henry Dernham, Chas. de Young, E. O. McCormick, W. Gregg, Jr., C. W. Hornick, Chas. T. Crocker, M. H. Robbins, Jr., Dent H. Robert, Leopold Michels, Capt. Jno. Barneson, Fred Hogue, Col. J. C. Kirkpatrick, Thornwall Mullally, R. A. Crothers, Raphael Weill, Frederick Sharon, Wm. Wasson, B. F. Schlesinger, Jos. D. Grant, H. J. Bartlett, Louis Sloss, W. E. Bissell, Sig. Stern, Gov. J. N. Gillett, W. J. Martin, A. Christeson, Mayor P. H. McCarthy, C. H. Schlacks, Chas. A. Cooke, Rudolph Herold, W. B. Webster, E. H. Tryon.

The importance to this city of having the aviation meet located here is great. Its nearness in time to San Francisco will be shown by the splendid transportation facilities of the Southern Pacific and United Railroads that can transport at least 100,000 people daily from San Francisco to the aviation grounds.

This will be an important argument in favor of holding the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915 in this locality, when these facilities will be much improved.

TO THE FRIENDS OF THE OPEN SHOP MOVEMENT.

Early in June of the present year an issue was drawn between organized labor and its employers, which precipitated an industrial struggle on this Peninsula from Colma to Santa Clara.

To discuss the merits of the issue is idle and a waste of time and energy. The facts that interested business men in the building industry were that the natural growth of population on this Peninsula had practically ceased; which greatly impaired our business chances and deprived the mechanic of the opportunity to market his labor.

We have watched the labor trust with its ever increasing demands and unlawful methods of enforcing them, drive the iron and other industries out of San Francisco, and we hold them directly responsible for our condition.

Having the best interests of the community at heart and the courage of our convictions, and believing the time opportune, we have inaugurated the open-shop policy under which any American citizen will have the right to work or not to work, as he may choose, without intimidation or fear of bodily harm. The movement has grown until every avenue of business is now open to us, and our workmen are the equal of any in skill and efficiency. The men who have made it possible for a free man to again work in a free country are certainly entitled to the support of every lover of freedom.

You will aid this movement by patronizing the following material men, contractors and sub-contractors:

MEXICAN SITUATION REPORTED BETTER

Official Reports Indicate Rising Has Been Suppressed

Embassador de la Barra of Mexico has received a dispatch from his Government denying reports of the alleged killing of 500 revolutionists at Puebla in a clash with Government forces. A dispatch said an official investigation of the disturbance in Puebla showed that Government forces attacked a body of twenty-five revolutionists entrenched in a house at that place. As a result of the conflict, twenty-three were killed and seventeen wounded on both sides.

The Mexican Embassador at Washington received another dispatch declaring that order had been restored in all States.

Skirmish in Chihuahua.

GENERAL NEWS
HAPPENINGS Half a million dollars annually will be saved to the Post-office Department, it is believed, as a result of an order issued by Postmaster-General Hitchcock, discontinuing the practice of re-enclosing registered mail in special envelopes before sending it from the office of origin. The order will be effective December 1st.

Detachments of troops and constabulary are operating against the hostile Manobos in Davao, Mindanao island. One column has killed several of the tribesmen, including two who were implicated in the murder of Earl Gerr, a planter, from Seattle. Another column has killed three implicated in the murder of Gerr and other planters, and has succeeded in recovering Gerr's body.

The American Federation of Labor closed its thirtieth annual convention at St. Louis by choosing Atlanta, Ga., as its meeting place for next year. The entire list of officers, including President Samuel Gompers, Secretary Frank Morrison and Treasurer John B. Lennon, was re-elected.

At Portland a draw span of steel, 252 feet long and weighing 850 tons, has been removed from the false work on which it had been built, taken on barges, towed to its position at the new Hawthorne bridge which spans the Willamette river and safely placed in position. The Hawthorne bridge is now equipped with a lift draw, the first of its kind there, which runs in frames placed at either end. Electrical machinery raises the two draw ends simultaneously and vessels pass beneath.

Three shifts of workmen, assisted by growers and packers from the Pacific Northwest, are working day and night in the First Regiment Armory, Chicago, to have everything in readiness for the national apple show beginning Monday morning, when 2,000,000 specimens will be on exhibition. Saturday growers began installing the district displays from orchards in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and the Province of British Columbia.

James J. Hill has had a talk with President Taft. Afterward he had this to say on politics: "The last election has taught politicians and the country something valuable—that party lines no longer exist to an important extent, and that men are thinking, voting and acting along independent lines. I am of the opinion that the demagogue and agitator will go more slowly when he attacks everything and everybody in sight and merely appeals to the dissatisfaction of the people. It is highly probable that in a few years there will be little in the way of party lines in the United States."

Execution Is Delayed.

The execution of Gunner Thomas Allen, sentenced to be hanged at Victoria, B. C., next Friday for the murder on August 1st of his commander, Captain Peter Elliston of the British Army, has been postponed until February 2d by an order of the Criminal Court.

James Anderson, a gamekeeper at Dutton's point, between Benicia and Suisun, was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon by the accidental discharge of a shotgun. The man was climbing through a fence when the gun exploded.

SAN FRANCISCO SUN NO LONGER SHINES

Suspends After Three Months' Daily Publication

After an existence of less than three months, the San Francisco Sun, a morning daily, has suspended publication. The management announces that it has hopes of resuming operations later.

The financial affairs of the newspaper were brought to a crisis Tuesday afternoon when the members of the Typographical Union employed by the newspaper served notice upon the management that no more work would be done unless the money to pay salaries was forthcoming. The announcement that there was no money with which to pay was then made.

Soon after the dealers who had supplied white paper for the publication sent a truck to the building to secure what white paper was left there. One of the members of the Typographical Union was made a special deputy sheriff and put on guard at the building to see that no one removed anything of value that could be levied upon.

The Sun made its appearance September 2d as a morning Democratic newspaper. It was published at 652 Mission street, and Henry J. Bartlett was general manager, James Stuart business manager, and H. A. Dunn editor.

Three weeks ago checks issued to employees as salaries could not be realized upon immediately at the Bank of California. Later they were honored when enough money to meet them was deposited.

*The checks issued November 22d for salaries and which bore in addition to the publishing company's name the signature of H. A. Dunn, the editor, instead of that of Henry J. Bartlett, the general manager, as before, were returned to those who had cashed them marked "no funds."

Luke Marisch, a Third-street saloon-keeper, cashed three checks aggregating $80.90, which he has been unable to cash at the Bank of California, and which he cashed for employees of the Sun. Other checks which the holders cannot cash at the bank and which were cashed for Sun employees are held by the Press saloon, $25; Levy Wholesale Liquor Company, $106; Frank Koenig, saloon owner, $110; Hotel Argonaut, $30.

Tuesday night the stereotypers employed on the newspaper attached the plant for salaries.

SACRAMENTO MAKES CONCESSION

Abandon Plan for Usual Inaugural Ball.

There will be no inaugural ball for Governor Johnson. This was decided at a meeting of the committee held Tuesday night, when the plans set on foot a week ago were canceled. Mayor M. R. Beard presided as chairman, and the letter received from Governor-elect Johnson was taken up.

Mayor Beard said it has been the custom for a long time to hold the inaugural ball in Sacramento for every new Governor and other State official, upon which occasion Sacramento showed her hospitality to the officials sent there by the voters of the State. The department store managers were in favor of holding a ball and Michel Nathan, Harry Thorp and ex-Senator McKee thought Johnson might be prevailed upon to sanction the ball.

Others, however, better acquainted with the Governor-elect, said it would be useless to take up the matter again. Dr. F. B. Sutcliffe moved that the chairman drop the proposition and dismiss the committee and Victor Hatfield seconded the motion, which was carried.

Several members, however, voted no. The chairman was instructed to write Governor Johnson that his wishes would be respected, but that Sacramento regrets having to forego the usual festivities.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES

Albert Tobin, a Che-muvis Indian, while drinking in Victorville, on the desert, ran amuck and seriously wounded five other Indians with his bowie knife. The worst injured is Nellie Mary Mack, Tobin's squaw. She, with Bad Jim and Maxwell Japoli, were brought to the County Hospital, San Bernardino, on a Santa Fe train. After the fight Tobin seized his rifle and fled to the hills. He was trailed down and captured by Constable Ed Dolch and a posse.

James Corcoran is being sought by the police on charges of having passed several fictitious checks on Santa Rosa merchants. He cashed one recently at the Jenkins cyclery for $5, and on Saturday another turned up which had been passed on the Santa Rosa furniture Company for $35. Corcoran has disappeared from his usual haunts and cannot be located.

Leroy Scott of Denver, a senior in the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, died in the University Hospital from supposed opium poisoning. He was 30 years old. The authorities believe the student took an overdose of some patent headache cure. He was discovered lying unconscious in his room.

The buildings of the famous Stockton mineral baths, which are one of the greatest attractions and health resorts in that part of the State, were destroyed by fire about noon Sunday. The east wing of the bathhouse is believed to have caught fire from a defective heater used in the private baths. The extensive bathing department, private tanks, pumping plant and other buildings were burned. The loss is estimated at $75,000, partly covered by insurance. W. J. McCullom, the owner, has stated that he would immediately rebuild the well known resort.

TERSE CALIFORNIA NEWS

The steamship Beaver of the San Francisco - Portland Steamship Company has been libeled for $275,000 in the United States District Court. The libel is the result of the collision of November 22d, when the Norwegian steamship Selja was sunk and two of her Chinese crew drowned near Point Arena.

The Home Telephone Company is to invade the Sacramento field. Plans are now being laid to get the business and install a plant. Representatives of the company have been there for several days and everything is ready for active work. The attorneys for the new company are now drawing up a franchise and the City Trustees will be asked at the next meeting to grant it.

At an enthusiastic meeting held in Thornton Hall, Stege, steps were taken for petitioning the county and State officials to organize the new city of Pullman, to comprise Rust, Stege, Thornton and Pullman. Funds to carry out the campaign for the new townsite were raised at the meeting.

The big annual meeting of the El-dorado County Standardized Fruit Alliance was held at Placerville and was presided over by its president, G. W. Ball, and State Horticultural Commissioner Jeffrey, who was largely responsible for the fruit standardization movement. The meeting was held in the local opera-house, and practically all the orchardists within a radius of twelve to fifteen miles were in attendance.

The fine new auxiliary steam plant of the San Joaquin Power Corporation in Bakersfield was heavily damaged by a gas explosion and is temporarily out of commission. The plant had just been completed at a cost of $75,000. Two boilers were wrecked and a large part of the brick work was ruined, entailing a loss of $10,000. Fortunately, the employees were all on the opposite side of the plant and none was injured. The explosion was caused by an accumulation of gas in the combustion chamber.

Prospector Makes Big Find at Valdez.

James Grey of Portland, Ore., has arrived at Valdez with $7000 in gold dust, including several large nuggets, one valued at $568. The nuggets were picked up on Valdez creek, not far from Valdez. The discovery of quartz veins and placer dirt in the hills near Valdez will lead next spring to thorough prospecting of the country between Valdez and Cook inlet. With snow ten feet deep in the hills no prospecting can be done this winter.

Coal and Oil Land Withdrawn.

Secretary Ballinger announces the withdrawal from entry of 644,000 acres of coal land in Montana. The land lies between Miles City and Glendive. The Secretary also withdrew about 5090 acres of oil lands in Kern county, California.

May Wait a Year.

The chances are he will not insist upon action within the approaching session, but that he will offer to the Democratic House and the Republican Senate, a year hence, a programme for tariff revision which will be bolstered up with facts and figures gathered by the tariff board.

Belgian Queen Better.

Bulletins issued by the attending physicians at Brussels indicate that the condition of Queen Elizabeth is improving. It is understood she is suffering from typhoid.

The municipality of Brest gave a banquet to 500 sailors of the American and French warships now in port. The men fraternized most cordially.

Republic Is Tranquil.

Conditions in Mexico are rapidly approaching a normal status, and the revolutionist disturbances are believed to be confined to the State of Chihuahua. Such is the tone of a telegram received by the State Department at Washington from Henry Lane Wilson, United States Embassador to Mexico.

In the battle between the Government and revolutionary forces which was waged near Chihuahua on Sunday, Mr. Wilson reports that the defeat of the rebels was accompanied with considerable loss to them. The strength of the Government troops in this encounter was 600, while the defeated

THE LIGHT IN THE TOWER.

It Brought the Heartsore Lovers
Together Again.

By AGNES G. BROGAN.

[Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.]

The little motorboat chugged cheerily up the lake as the girl who was its only occupant directed its course. Her brooding eyes gazed unconsciously upon the water as it parted and closed before her. Then presently she turned with a start of surprise to find that the shore had been left so far in the distance. She had wished to be alone, with no fear of interruption—alone to think things over, to live again in memory the days that had preceded her broken engagement, to ask herself for the hundredth time if she had acted fairly and justly in sending Paul away.

It had all happened a year ago, but the rippling lake, even the cottages huddled along the sandy beach, brought back so vividly the many happy hours they had spent together. She hesitated now with her hand upon the wheel.

A nervous fear possessed her at the thought of returning alone across this vast expanse of waters, and then, as she raised her eyes, glistening white against the blue sky, like a great beckoning finger, shone the lighthouse. The girl leaned forward eagerly.

"YOU'LL NEVER BE ALONE LONG AGAIN."

She remembered when Paul and she had climbed to the top of the tower and had stood there long in the silence. The old lighthouse keeper had made much of them. He had gathered great bunches of wild flowers for her, and his eyes had twinkled merrily as he wished them "happiness and a fair voyage" when they departed. He came to meet her now as the nose of her boat ground into the sand and reached out a helping hand to draw it nearer. She sprang out lightly and stood smiling up into his rugged face.

"You don't remember me, of course," she said, "but I visited your island last summer and would like to do so again."

"You are very welcome," he said gallantly. "And there are some folks one never forgets."

An old lady sat knitting upon the rough wooden platform before the lighthouse door. She arose and put forth her hand in greeting.

"This is my wife," the keeper explained. "She comes up from the village to visit me sometimes, and my boy calls to take her home in the cool of the evening. She'll be real glad to make you a cup o' tea, but she can't be very sociable on account o' being deaf." And the old lady resumed her knitting.

The little emerald isle was fragrant with blossoms, the water lapped its shores soothingly, and the girl breathed a sigh of contentment. The lighthouse keeper slowly lighted his pipe, regarding her the while.

"Well," he asked at length, "you came alone this time. Where is Paul?"

"Paul!" she said sharply. "What do you know of him?"

"Not much now," the old man responded, "for he left these parts some time ago, but I knew him considerable well when he was a lad back there in the village. A good lad he was, too, barring his foolish notion o' being a great artist. Many a time he used to come rowing up here to sketch me or the light or some crumbling old thing that he called 'picturesque,' and he would be talking about going abroad to study—when he could raise the money."

"Yes," the girl said quickly, with a strange bitterness in her sweet voice, that was the trouble—he needed money."

The old man looked at her gravely. "Just what do you mean by that?" he asked.

Since the day she had put Paul out of her life forever the subject had been forbidden even her dearest friend. No one dared mention his name in her presence. Yet now she decided suddenly to unburden her heart to the man whose stern gaze was fixed upon her, and the decision of right or wrong upon her part should be left to his judgment.

"When I went to spend last summer over there upon the lake shore," she said, "it was well known that I had been left a large fortune through the death of my parents, and, though my aunt did her best to warn me against fortune hunters, her teachings were all forgotten the moment I met Paul. He had fixed up a temporary little studio down there upon the sand, and I was greatly interested in his work and in the future which he described in such glowing terms, and—well, at last we became engaged. He had determined never to reveal his love for me, for my money loomed up a great obstacle to his pride, but the question had seemed to ask itself as we walked together one moonlight evening, and after that we were very happy until I learned the truth. It was told to aunt by a mutual friend. Paul had been in love all his life with poor little Bessie Roberts, then teacher of the village school.

And when she had discovered my fondness for him she agreed to sacrifice her life's happiness that through my wealth he might realize his one great ambition. They were still known to meet occasionally, the friend had said, and the girl's eyes would be wet as they parted at the pier.

I was indignant when I first heard the story and tried to believe my faith in Paul unchanged; then he began to send regretful little notes begging off from various pleasure trips which we had planned, pleading as his excuse the urgent need of working steadily upon a portrait which must be finished at the given time. As I was returning alone from the pier one day I met the girl who had been pointed out to me as Bessie Roberts. She came from the direction of Paul's studio, and, following an impulse, I retraced my steps and entered the sunny little room.

It was entirely empty, but upon an easel stood a covered picture, and as I raised the drapery Bessie Roberts' pretty face, pictured with unusual beauty, confronted me. I ran blindly up the sands to our hotel and wrote a note to Paul telling him that I was convinced he desired only my money and refusing to see or hear from him again." The girl's voice faltered.

"If he had not deceived me," she said haltingly, "I might have found a way to help them both."

The old keeper aroused himself with a start. His pipe had gone out. He spoke huskily.

"I knew Bessie Roberts as I did Paul," he said. "They have always been friends—no more. And now she is married to a rich broker fellow who came to the point about the time you did last year. They have a big summer home over there, and Paul's portrait of Bessie hangs in the hall. The broker fellow paid him well for painting it, they say, and I fancy it was one of Bessie's ways of helping her old friend on."

The girl sat speechless. Her face had grown very white.

"Don't you fret, child," the old man said compassionately. "He'll come back, for I've found that love is like a light shining over stormy waters—it generally leads us back to port, and—bless me," he exclaimed, "I've got an errand to do over at the other island. It will only take a jiffy. See that black cloud yonder? That means a breeze and a shower—be all over pretty soon, but promise me you won't start out to navigate till I get back."

He was already running down the path to his boat.

"Promise!" he called back, and the girl nodded a smiling assent.

The old lady had fallen asleep over her knitting, so she stood uncertain for a moment in the great stone doorway, then, entering, ascended the iron steps, which resounded beneath her tread as she followed the winding way up and up, coming out at last upon a little balcony with the lake and hills stretching far below. The breeze came up quickly, tearing at her skirts and tossing the hair about her eyes as she groped confusedly for the handle of the little iron door, but even as she reached to grasp it the door blew shut, there was a metallic click, and she knew that in closing the door had locked itself.

Then in vain she pressed her weight against it as the raindrops fell upon her face; then, leaning dizzily over, she tried to make her voice reach the deaf ears below. The keeper's wife would think she had gone away with him, she reflected despairingly.

She sank down on the narrow platform and looked at her watch—5 o'clock. In an hour or two at the most he would return to light the lamps—if she could only fight off this strange giddiness till then. Resolutely she buried her face in her arms, fearing to look down. Hours afterward—or could it have been moments?—she heard steps bounding up the stairs, the doorway thrown open, and she uncovered her eyes to look up into Paul's own eager ones.

"Oh," she cried breathlessly, "I have been alone so long!"

He drew the wet little figure quickly into shelter.

"You'll never be alone long again if I can help it," he said fervently.

And just then the blue cap of the lighthouse keeper appeared at the top of the stairs, and from beneath its brim his eyes were twinkling.

"Where did you find him," the girl asked joyously, "to bring him back to me?"

"My light searches out all the hidden places," he answered, with a subdued chuckle.

And, as they came out hand in hand through the stone doorway and stood looking far over the darkening lake, suddenly across its broad surface there flashed a rippling path of golden light—a light that led the mariner who had been far from home on the trackless deep back into a haven of rest and often to those for whom he has striven at sea.

"Paul," the girl repeated softly, "love is like a light shining over stormy waters—it leads us back to port."

Something on His Mind.

The man from next door dropped in while the company were discussing dreams.

"Some one has discovered that if the hand of a sleeping person is placed in salt water that person will reveal the secrets of his past life," said the hostess, and the visitor immediately began a hurried search for his hat.

"Where are you going?" she asked in alarm.

"Going home to hide the salt cellar," replied the visitor.

Francisco last week from New Jersey. Miss Reeves is attached to the government service and will remain in San Francisco a few months, and then proceed to the Philippine Islands where her stay will be indefinite.

A. A. Pudsey has rented the Glen Crocker's residence temporarily until his residence in third addition is plastered.

Wouldn't it make you mad to pay a S. P. baggage man to lose a dog for you at San Jose, and have that same dog waiting for you at night when you return home? Ask Warren Custer about it.

To our German friends we would like to state a fact which may not be generally known that they have a German physician at San Bruno. Dr. E. A. Bohm. Telephone, Junction House.

U. G. Hanks, fourth addition, received by freight from the east a new wagon last Tuesday, also sufficient sugar to load the wagon. The outfit was a formidable looking visitor as it moved through our main street to its new home on the hill. Hanks is looking for a few loads of sand. We hope that his purpose is not to mix it with the sugar.

Emile Della Maggiori, the first person to start a grocery store in San Bruno, visited the 120 acre ranch at St Helena last Tuesday which he recently purchased and will in a few days take up his future residence there. The contents of the store which he conducted up to the present time is nearly all disposed of and aside from a few minor matters his business is practically brought to a close.

What might have been a serious accident at the crossing last Monday afternoon can only be attributed to good luck. P. J. Sullivan driving his delivery wagon had barely crossed when the gates were lowered and an automobile with two men coming directly behind him was compelled to drive through the lowered gates. Owing to their perilous condition on emerging from the closed gates and the close proximity to Sullivan, the driver, having only a moment to think saw only one alternative to save Sullivan being run down and that was to run into the railroad fence, which he did, going through the fences and several barbed wires. The clothing of one of the occupants were badly torn, but neither received any injuries. The front of the machine was badly wrecked necessitating a return to the junction repair shop before proceeding to San Francisco, their destination.

San Bruno Camp, No. 410, W. O. W., nominated and elected the following named new officers for the ensuing term last night: Past Con. Commander, Louis Treger; Con. Commander, Albert Gillespie; Auditor, Frank Smith; Escort, G. W. Edwards; Banker, Ernest Lieniz; Clerk, J. J. Maloney; Inside Sentinel, Kenneth Pudsey; Outside Guard, A. A. Green.

A clothes pin social was given by the San Bruno Methodist Church last Friday night. Waffles and coffee, strawberries and maple syrup were served as refreshments. The young people indulged in games, while the older ones had a clothes pin sticking contest, and strange to say the men out-did the ladies, Mr. Meade winning by several lengths over all competitors, with Mr. Emerick a close second.

Gus Walsh returned from Tonopah, Nevada, last Wednesday where he has been for the past seven months. He expected to make the Nevada town his future home, but the sage brush state lost all claims which it might have after a brief residence there. San Bruno is good enough for Gus. He was busy shaking hands with all of his acquaintances and everybody was glad to see him back again and to stay.

Dave Sterrett has entered into the employ of the Southern Pacific railroad. His first try out preceding promotion is pumping air into the mechanism for manipulating the gates. If he succeeds in that he will be in line for the presidency. Dave has not thus far after four days, experience found out whether it is hot or cold air, but the arduous work causes liberal perspiration. He is inclined to think the railroad has handed him a package.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church will give a chicken dinner next Wednesday afternoon and evening in the basement of the church on the Mission road. Extra pains will be taken to satisfy the most fastidious. The fattest chickens from the home henneries will be cooked for the occasion as well as everything else to complete a first-class dinner. The charge will be fifty cents. Everybody invited and satisfaction guaranteed.

South City Aerie 1473, F. O. E., nominated officers for the ensuing term Tuesday evening last. Election of officers takes place next Tuesday evening. Members are requested to be out in force. Matters of great importance to the Aerie will be discussed. Circulars are being received relative to the Grand Aerie session in San Francisco in August, 1911. The advisability of forming a marching club to obtain uniforms, preparing headquarters for visitors for the purpose of advertising that particular brand of Eagle hospitality that exists in our county, and we believe it is a brand that will work the blood in the veins of our Eastern brethren, and make them feel the warmth of fraternal sentiment that prevails among the Eagles of this county will be taken up. We desire to make our Eastern visitors believe that our portion of the Golden State is the most favored spot in all this land. There are thirty thousand Eagles in California. This will be our opportunity. Let us make the most of it. We have already appointed a 1911 committee, and it wishes every member to know that 1473 is going to take an active part in that celebration. The merchants of our city will be asked to get behind us and boost for this locality. We believe it will prove a grand success. The ball began rolling at the last session, when four applications were received. Double the membership is the slogan. The Secretary will be at lodge hall at 7 p. m. Tuesday next to receive dues. Members must be paid up to take part in the session. Come early and avoid the rush.

COUNTY NOTES.

Harvey Fitzgerald, a barber, of San Francisco, was fatally shot by Stephen Mori Sunday morning near San Pedro. Mori claims that Fitzgerald was trespassing on property of which he was keeper. He says that when he warned the trespasser who had been shooting at game on the premises to desist, the latter made an attempt to use him as a target, but he was not quick enough to execute the threat. Mori discharged the contents into the breast of Fitzgerald, the range being so short that it almost tore away his whole heart. Mori telephoned to Sheriff Chatham, who went over in an automobile and placed him under arrest. An inquest was started at Burlingame yesterday by Coroner H. G. Plymire. District Attorney J. J. Bullock and attorney L. F. Byington appeared for the people, and attorney Martin Stevens represented Mori. Considerable testimony was taken and further proceedings postponed until next Wednesday. No inquest had been called prior to yesterday, stories in the San Francisco Examiner to the contrary notwithstanding.
